

UNITA Letter of Commitment as Associated Partner

Name of the project: UNITA

UNITA's fundamental purpose is to lay the foundation of a genuine European university which contributes to the educational, scientific and cultural progress of its regions, fosters their sustainable development, strengthening the local innovation ecosystems and supporting their transition to a knowledge-based economy, whilst promoting and accelerating European integration within and beyond them.

Name and statutes of the Partner: Aragon Agency for Quality Assurance and Strategic Foresight in Higher Education (ACPUA)
(Zaragoza, Aragon, Spain)

The ACPUA is the official evaluation body for Higher Education in Aragon (Spain). ACPUA is full member of ENQA and is registered in EQAR.

Reasons for Partner's participation in the project:

As the official Quality Assurance Agency of Aragon (Spain), ACPUA is the main actor in external quality assurance for higher education in the region. Therefore, its field of action includes the study programmes evaluation and the institutional accreditation of the University of Zaragoza. Therefore, the mission of ACPUA is to assure and promote the quality of Aragon higher education system, but also to develop useful links between the university, the socio-productive areas, the institutional decision-making bodies and the society and to promote exchanges of experiences with other systems and other education levels.

As full member of ENQA and of the most important global and European Networks on Quality Assurance (INQAAHE, ECA) and having carried out international reviews within the European Higher Education Area (EHEA), ACPUA is very interested by the opportunity to participate in the UNITA project because the development of a European framework for comprehensive QA of European Universities is a major challenge that QA agencies have to face. For this, ACPUA offers its previous experience in actively accompanying the construction of the internal quality system of the UNITA Alliance.
